Squash Falconer on Monte Rosa

Squash Falconer is an all-action kinda girl and we like her a lot. More to the point, we like to follow her adventures via her blog and videos.

On her latest trip, Squash jumped on her favourite BMW F800 GS motorbike (more than one member of Team Trail is a keen biker) and headed over to the Aosta Valley in Italy to climb the 4,500m peak of Monte Rosa.

In just a few short days she covered over 2000miles and climbed multiple summits. This short film, shot entirely on a GoPro action camera, gives you a glimpse into the journey and the stunning Monte Rosa itself. Enjoy.
